Lady is One Incredible Dog!

Therapy Dog from Hanover, PA is a real winner.

Warwick, N.Y 2/6/04 – Publisher Moo Press of Warwick, NY announced today that the first book in their One Incredible Dog! book series will be published May 15, 2004. The first book is about Lady, a Therapy Dog who works in Hanover, PA. One Incredible Dog! is a new early reader series for ages 4-8 that honors the incredible things dogs do for people every day.

Lady recently won The Evening Sun Newspaper's "2004 Pet of the Year," and has won numerous other awards and honors including The American Kennel Club's "Canine Good Citizen," Therapy Dog International's "Active Outstanding Volunteer" and Hanover Hall Nursing Center's Certificate of Recognition for "Many hours of joy she provides to our residents."

Therapy dogs help cheer up people young and old who are in hospitals, nursing homes, and special homes for children. Non-profit organizations like Therapy Dogs International (www.tdi-dog.org) and Delta Society (www.deltasociety.org) help educate and train therapy dogs and their handlers.

The therapy dogs that helped people after the attacks of 9/11 inspired author Chris Williams, a radio announcer in Baltimore, MD. Networking locally, he met Kathy Miller, a nursing assistant at a nursing home in Hanover, PA who had a Therapy dog named Lady. After spending some time with Kathy and Lady, Chris wrote One Incredible Dog! a story that takes the reader through a typical day in the life of a therapy dog.

Trainer and owner Kathy Miller says Lady was found abandoned by the road in Spring 2000. As a nursing assistant and animal lover, Kathy had always been interested in animal assisted therapy. She enrolled Lady in a Therapy Dog certification program and after two years, Lady received her certification from Therapy Dogs International in Flanders, NJ.

Lady and Kathy work together in nursing (about 40 hours per week) at the Hanover Hall Nursing and Rehabilitation Center, and volunteer at local schools, churches, and hospitals in the Pennsylvania area to promote awareness of therapy dog programs.

About the Author

Chris Williams was born in Bristol, PA and grew up in nearby Levittown, PA. Currently residing in York County, PA with his wife and son, Chris has authored several children's eBooks including Walter the Trolley, Eddie's Fabulous Fables and The Real Adventures of Glip and Ha (all published by London Circle Publishing) and numerous published short stories. A broadcast veteran since 1975, Chris presently works full-time as an announcer at WRBS-FM in Baltimore, MD.

His inspiration for writing One Incredible Dog! Lady came after 9-11, when he learned about the courageous deeds Therapy Dogs did to bring comfort and healing to those involved in the attack and recovery operation.

Networking locally, he met a nursing assistant, Kathy Miller and her Therapy Dog Lady. After spending time with Kathy and Lady, Chris sat down and wrote One Incredible Dog!, the first of many books to document for children ages 4-8 a day in the life of working dogs. Chris is a life-long Philadelphia Phillies fan and enjoys classic film comedies like Laurel & Hardy, The Marx Brothers and W.C. Fields.

About the Illustrator

Judith Friedman was born in Hungary and grew up in France. After studying at the Ecole De Ganneron in Paris, Judith continued her studies at the Art Institute of Chicago. A long time resident of Illinois, Judith now lives in Wisconsin with her husband and works as a free-lance illustrator, portrait artist and painter.

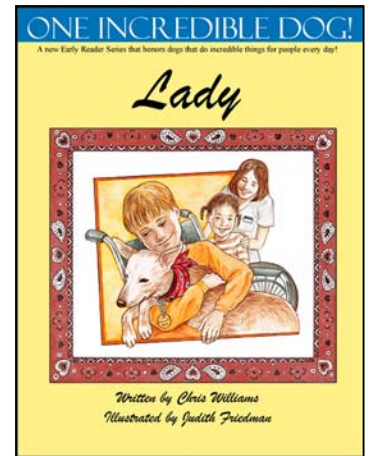

Judith's career is as broad as she is worldly. An award winning children's book illustrator who has illustrated dozens of children's books, Judith has also designed record covers, illustrated storyboards for TV, developed cookware designs for Eco Housewares, designed numerous advertisements, and illustrated for magazines such as Business Week, Cricket Magazine, Crain Chicago Business and School Zone. Publishers such as Follett, Whitman, World Book, Laidlaw, Lerner/Kar-Ben, Nystrom, Pearson/Scott-Foresman, and McDougall-Litel have all looked to Judith for quality illustration on a regular basis. While living in Illinois, Judith taught several for-credit classes at the Art Institute of Chicago, at her own studio, and for various schools and libraries. She continues to be a frequent speaker, exhibit her artwork for nonprofit organizations, and serve as a judge at numerous art shows in the Chicago area. When not working, Judith enjoys sailing, traveling and cooking.

About the Therapy Dog

Lady was found in the spring of 2000, abandoned along side of the road. She was adopted and trained by Kathy Miller to work as a Therapy Dog. In May 2002, Lady received her certification from Therapy Dogs International. She works 40 hours a week as Kathy's co-partner in nursing and volunteers at local schools, churches, and hospitals in the Pennsylvania area.

An active 4 year old, Lady's favorite toy right now is a pink teddy bear that plays music when she picks it up. She can hear a cellophane wrapper from a mile away, and is always ready to share your food! Her favorite treat is a natural beef jerky made by a local meat market (low in salt and no seasonings).

About the Owner-Trainer

Kathy Miller, a mother to three, was born and raised in Ohio and currently resides in Hanover, PA with her husband and youngest daughter. Kathy works as a nursing assistant at the Hanover Hall Nursing and Rehabilitation Center. Kathy entered into nursing in 1997 and soon after became interested in Animal Assisted Therapy after reading about the Eden project in long-term care facilities. She contacted Therapy Dogs International in nearby Flanders, NJ and began educating herself on the training and techniques of using Therapy Dogs in therapy and nursing situations. In 2000, Kathy adopted a dog that was found abandoned on the side of a road. She named the dog Lady, and began to train her to work as a Therapy Dog. Two years later, Lady received her certification from Therapy Dogs International. Kathy and Lady work together in nursing and volunteer at local schools, churches, and hospitals in the Pennsylvania area.

Moo Press, Inc. is a proud member of:

- ❖ Association of American Publishers (AAP)
- ❖ Publishers Marketing Association (PMA)

Moo Press, Inc. was founded in 2002. One Incredible Dog! Lady is the first in a new Early Reader series that pays tribute to dogs that do incredible things for people every day (such as marine rescue dogs and police dogs). We publish fiction and nonfiction, with an eye toward books that pass on ideas, teach skills, or take the reader on an adventure. Our other titles for 2004 publication include a business book, two children's picture books, an adult novel, and a children's novel.

Our book promotion campaign includes radio and TV appearances, book signings, presentations by Lady and her owner/trainer, the illustrator, and the author at schools, libraries, hospitals, and local civic groups such as humane societies, kennel clubs and therapy dog association chapters.
