

Neither Sand Nor Sea

A Novel by Kathleen Kubik

PUB DATE: 11/1/05

NATIONAL DISTRIBUTION
VIA NBN/BIBLIO

As seen in the September 2005 issue of Hemispheres Magazine's Cruise Issue

ISBN-10: 0-9766805-1-3
ISBN-13: 978-0-9766805-1-2
Trade Paperback
Women's Literature
6 x 9; 368 pg
US$15/CAN$24

What makes this book special:

- Author is a woman over 60 who has written her first novel.
- Author is a role model for seniors who think it's too late to follow their dreams.
- Main character Carla Montgomery (age 27) faces the challenges of balancing her career and her romantic life.
- Carla mourns her mother's recent death and tries to find peace of mind, even as she discovers a secret from her mother's past.

MEET THE AUTHOR

Kathleen Kubik travels extensively and especially enjoys smaller, full-sail cruises similar to the one featured in this book. When not researching or writing, she can be found at the local bridge club or supporting the good work of the Guiding Eyes for the Blind and the North Shore Animal League. Kathleen lives with her husband, Richard, and their dogs in West Nyack, New York and at their seashore home in Montauk, New York.

READERS WHO WILL LOVE Neither Sand Nor Sea :

- Women of all ages will engage in Carla's struggle to find a soul mate.
- Women who travel on cruise ships or dream of cruising.
- Fans of romance genre.
- Tourists/residents of Montauk, NY.
- Women who have had to cope with the loss of their mothers.

Promotion Campaign Highlights

- Review copy mailing to top 100 media outlets
- Advertising and interviews in local and regional media
- Tie-ins with author appearances at local bookstores, women's clubs, libraries, and Library Association Conferences

Published by Keene Publishing [SAN 254-8631]

6 High Street, 2nd Floor
PO Box 54
Warwick, NY 10990

Phone: 845-987-7750
Fax: 845-987-7845
Email: info@moopress.com
Web: www.MooPress.com

Moo Press is the Children's Book imprint of Keene Publishing, where our goal is to illuminate lives, one book at a time.